Art Unit: 3711

DETAILED ACTION

1. In claim 9, "pivot means" and "clamp means" should be changed to --pivoting means-- and --clamping means--.
2. It is noted here that claim elements not using "means for" language will not be considered to invoke 35 USC 112, ¶6. If applicant wishes to have claim limitations treated under 35 USC 112, ¶6, applicant must either amend the claims to include the phrase "means for" or show that the claim limitation is written as a function to be performed and does not provide sufficient structure, material, or acts which would preclude application of 35 USC 112, ¶6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 3711

Regarding claim 1, the phrase "at a height ranging from a level..." renders the claim indefinite because the recited height range is variable and not based on any known standard but on a person of unknown size.

Claims 2-9 are rejected because they depend from a rejected claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent Number 389,336 (Stunden) in view of U.S. Patent Number 4,261,469 (Stone).

Regarding claims 1, 6 and 7, Figure 1 of Stunden shows a clothes drier having the recited freestanding and collapsible structure of two attachment members A,B and at least a pair of cords P suspended parallel to the ground and to each other. Stunden does not explicitly describe the cords to be elastic, the cords are described to be stretched between attachment members A,B. See lines 42-44. To the extent that the Stunden lines are not elastic, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to make them elastic in view of Stone who discloses that clothes lines are old and well-known in the art to be made from elastic cords. See Stone at Figure 1 (line 14) and the bridging paragraph between columns 2-3.

Although the Stunden clothes drier is not a golf trainer, per se, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

Regarding claims 2 and 3, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adjust the height and distance of the Stunden lines to accommodate particular pieces of clothing of different sizes.

Regarding claim 4, the ends of the Stunden lines 14 are attached to the attachment members A,B.

Regarding claim 5, attachment members A,B provide the means to suspend the cords in such a manner to form a plane inherently capable of being perpendicular to a swing plane.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 8 and 9 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
